The 'Journey of Becoming' a one week intensive in July, will serve as an excellent foundation to what underlies Steiner education. It is highly recommended as an introductory course for those people wanting to grow and develop their understanding. It may help answer the questions: “Where do I find out more about what lies behind Steiner education and anthroposophy?” See inside for details.

This week, we will be treated to the Class’s 10 students’ presentation of The Crucible, an allegory for McCarthyism. Apart from being a highly engaging play, it will be a fantastic opportunity to see our students on stage. At $5 per adult it is also awesome value to engage with the arts! Take the opportunity and bring friends and relatives. See details inside.

Last week, the Association of Independent Schools (AISWA) held their AGM. Like all non-government, non-catholic schools we pay a subscription to AISWA and they provide support to our schools from legal enquiries to learning support advice. They also advocate on behalf of non-government schools to ensure our particular voice is heard by the government bodies. Here are a few facts about schools that operate independent of the government system like ours:

- There are 604,000 students attending non-government/non-catholic schools.
- There are 1,123 non-government/non-catholic schools all over Australia.
- In terms of government funding, the average amount per child paid by the government to private schools is $8,850 compared with $10,670 for a child in a catholic school and $17,280 for a child in a government school.
- Non-government/non-catholic schools are the largest provider of boarding schools for indigenous students and there are 13,079 indigenous students in attendance at private schools in Australia.

At the AGM, WA’s Commissioner for Children and Young People spoke about the results of a WA study into student engagement. “Research shows poor engagement with school may result in poor educational outcomes, diminished employment prospects and, for some, adverse life outcomes, including social exclusion, poverty and involvement with the justice system.” The Commissioner explained that there are three things that most impact engagement of students:

1. Positive relationships with teachers (and peers)
2. Curriculum that engages the child
3. Active participation in the learning

Our teachers, our curriculum and the way we teach strives to ensure student engagement is very high. Kudos to our staff for their work.

The High School Journey and Beyond evening is next week on Thursday at 6:30pm. This will provide an excellent opportunity to hear how student engagement is fostered at PWS and to ask questions.

IN THE LIGHT OF A CHILD

Unto myself I must be true
And when my tasks I rightly do,
Then God, from my own will, the world with light is filling.
Though sometimes I feel weak and small, I’m linked with love unto the All.
And I grow stronger when to do God’s work I’m willing.

GENERAL NEWS

HEAD LICE NOTICE
Dear PWS parents, there have been cases of Head Lice in our school.

Please check your child’s hair frequently and keep long hair tied back.

Symptoms include, excessive itching and tiny insects (resembling sesame seeds) and eggs (resembling grains of sand) throughout the head/hair.

Head Lice can be treated with shampooing with a head lice shampoo and combing with a special nit comb that will remove lice and eggs from the hair (see your local pharmacy for these products). Be sure to follow the instructions on the treatment that you use and repeat the treatment after 7-10 days.

For more information please go to http://www.healthywa.wa.gov.au/Articles/F_I/Head-lice

A WINTER FESTIVAL REQUEST

A big part of the Festival is the Winter spiral, created each year with earth, flowers, candles and glass jars. This year we are building two Spirals for the festival. One will be built for the Primary School and one will be built for the High School. It takes many glass jars to create the Spiral, therefore; at least 100-150 jars are needed for each spiral to bring it to life.

I am sending out a request for any Mexican salsa jars you may have in your clean jar collection that you could donate to a good cause. If you could remove the labels before bringing it in to me I would be truly grateful. The jars can be dropped off to the drama office (the old music room at the side of the hall), onto my desk which is straight inside the door to your left.

With thanks,
Sarah Boyle - Festival Co-ordinator

This is a beautiful meditative Prayer for a very small child, spoken by an adult, I would like to share:

May light stream into you that can take hold of you.
I follow its rays with the warmth of my love.
I think with my thinking’s best thoughts of joy
On the strings of your heart.
May these thoughts strengthen you,
May they carry you,
May they cleanse you.
I want to gather my thoughts of joy
Before the steps of your life,
That they bind (unite) with your will of life;
So that it finds itself with strength
In the world
Ever more
Through itself

CLASS 5 CAMP
Despite being blown home a little early, the Class Five’s had a wonderful cycling camp on Rottnest Island last week.

We enjoyed three still and soft Autumn days that were spent pedalling - 30km a day!; fishing - 20 herrings caught on the first night!; spotting crabs, scorpions, kayaks; and drawing leaves, shells and coral with Anne Williams, our resident artist.

Supported by good food and sleep, encouraged by parents and classmates, everyone revelled in group living. A chance to grow a little in independence, self-responsibility, and stamina.

A highlight for all of us was having Anne come along; there were many incidental moments where Anne was drawing while waiting for dinner and/or breakfast and the students would watch and learn techniques - how to draw a white shell on a white page and drawing a leaf surface from the middle out, edges last. The class also feel indebted to all the parents and helpers - Tracey, Melody, Scott and Addam for a wonderful camp!

We return with many memories of brilliant lighthouse beams, turquoise seas, Addam’s swift cycling - with no gears, and someone being chased by a peacock.

CLASS 7 (KULBARDI) VISITOR
Micheline Jenner is a whale expert, modern day explorer and mother of two children. We were lucky enough to have her come in and speak to both year seven classes about her discoveries. She has written a book called ‘Secret Life of Whales’. She has been studying whales for 30 years and has been to many places including Antarctica in her boat named ‘Whalesong’.

After our sailing camp earlier this year we were excited to learn about how she built her own sailing boat.

Micheline Jenner is a wonderful role model and she has inspired us to learn more about whales, and do what we can to help them. This includes reducing our plastic use. It’s as simple as using non-plastic shopping bags and water bottles. This will give the whales a cleaner, healthier environment and a stronger chance of survival. In the long run it will help us too!

We loved having Micheline come and talk to us and we hope she will come again soon.

Destinee, Margot and Isabella - Class 7 (Kulbardi) Students
REMINDEERS FOR THIS WEEK

Wednesday, 30th May - Class 9 will be having a Parent Teacher Meeting at 6:30pm. WANTED - Designs for a new barrier

The school wants to replace the safety barrier between Paracelsus and Magellan. It currently looks like this:

!Safety barrier current design

We are going to replace it with a Corten Steel barrier and we would like to invite you to create the design to cut into the steel. There will be two sheets, each 3m long and 1.2m high. We would like a nature-based design that can be cut out of the steel, but is not too complex.

Here are some examples of what the material could look like:

If you have any ideas or would like further details, please see Annabelle Kellenberger.
CLASS 8 BIOLOGY

For my Class 12 project I am researching climate change and its impact on wildlife. For my question I am asking “How does climate change affect the oceans and its wildlife?”

Climate change is a current and important subject, but I believe we focus so heavily on how it impacts humans and the environment that we forget how it affects wildlife, whether it is directly or through the impacts on the ecosystems. I am finding in my research that most of the Earth’s wildlife (especially marine life) is being negatively affected by the rising temperatures and sea levels, along with increasing levels of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases that are changing our climate. This is easily observed in coral bleaching such as in the Great Barrier Reef.

For my practical I am constructing a diorama featuring a coral reef and displaying how through coral bleaching the marine life are being impacted. I am also creating a written component in the form of a leaflet explaining coral bleaching.

Isaac Duval

For my Class 12 project I am living the question “Living a waste free life is the ideal. But how possible is it?” I am looking at waste in terms of household waste. This subject intrigued me as I have grown up in an environment where people work with nature, not against it. I was prompted to research further in this topic when I read about food waste and how 40%-60% of fruit and vegetables are rejected from supermarkets mostly due to not reaching cosmetic standards. Another shocking fact is that the Government estimates that food waste costs the Australian economy 20 billion dollars each year, or that usually when a family buys four bags of shopping most shoppers end up wasting 1.5 bags worth!

In light of this I have recently visited a facility called Food Rescue that works with many suburbs around Perth and looks to reduce the amount of wasted food that comes with running a business or charity. I enjoyed meeting the volunteers there and the way that they work to reduce food waste. It was a useful insight into the food industry and the waste that is produced. Plastic and clothing waste are also two other areas that I am researching.

For my Practical I am creating a book on house waste and tips on how to reduce it. I would like to include the experiences of a household becoming as waste free as possible during Plastic Free July. Are there any families in our PWS community that would be interested in being part of this experiment? It will entail me visiting once a week for the month and taking photos (of you and your bins!) and conducting interviews for my research.

If you are interested please contact me via my email: notelizajane@gmail.com

This week aims for each individual to find her/his own relationship to Rudolf Steiner’s spiritual science in relation to understanding human physiology as an inner pathway to Waldorf Pedagogy and to foster and awaken ongoing personal and professional development and growth.

The course is for current and new teachers wishing to deepen their pedagogic approach.

It offers lectures, explorations through study, conversations, and practical and artistic activities working on reflective practice as a basis for our own research.

‘Spiritual Science shows us that the Human Self is far wider than what is enclosed in the personality. Indeed the entire Spiritual Scientific mode of observation is based on the fact that the human being can reach beyond the self, beyond what is enclosed within the boundaries of the personality, without ever losing himself.’ RS 14/03/1912

Outline of the week.

Each morning we start with Eurythmy, exploring the formative forces within nature and ourselves in relation to the content of the course.

This is followed by nature observation using the method developed by Goethe. Basic to his approach is the importance of seeing the organism in its wholeness and inner coherence. This asks of us that we learn to observe the phenomena of nature with care, patience and respect. This engages us in an active interrelationship with the phenomena, discovering ourselves in the process of discovering the other.

After this dialogue with nature we turn to the lectures from the cycle ‘Study of Man’. We bring an involved and in depth method of study to the text at hand. Practicing our own mobility in thought and understanding.

In the afternoons we turn to Pedagogy related workshops. Artistic activities and review of the day.

At the end of the afternoon we have the main lectures. Themes will be:

- Embryology.
- First three years of child development.
- Developmental stages of body, soul and spirit.
- The life and development of the Human organs and its relevance in the Waldorf curriculum.
- The physiology of the Foundation Stone Meditation.

Drink Bottle Fundraiser - Individual Order form

Are you tired of re-writing names on drink bottles, or replacing name labels?
Welcome to the Drink Bottle Fundraiser... a great way to help raise money for your organisation while buying fully personalised drink bottles.
The names and images are laser engraved so they cannot rub or scratch off and the bottles are 100% BPA-free Stainless Steel. They are available in 6 great colours and 2 sizes (500mL and 740mL).
We’ve got your organisation’s logo ready to engrave, now all you need to do is choose the size and colour of your bottle and complete the order form below.
Remember your school, club or organisation earns $5 profit per bottle so why not use this as a way to promote your organisation by buying some for friends and family.

Small (500mL) - $18
Large (740mL) - $20

$5 per bottle goes to your organisation
